DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-19 are cancelled

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

1. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kasukabe et al ('863).

Kasukabe et al ('863) (see Fig. 12 and Col. 20, lines 64-65) disclose a method of testing a device, comprising the step of:

electrically connecting electrode pads (117a and see Col. 21, lines 14-20) of a device testing contactor (probing device 110) to electrodes (3) of a device being tested (2);

the electrode pads (117a) being formed on a wiring board (117) of the device testing contactor (probing device 110), and being reinforced by a reinforcing member (110d), and the device testing contactor (probing device 110) comprising the wiring board (117) and the reinforcing member (110d) collectively bonded to each other.

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Yamaguchi Hidenobu (JP 829751) discloses a semiconductor device inspecting handler comprising electrode pads of a device testing contactor electrically connecting to electrodes of a device being tested and a reinforcing member being fixed to a base substrate where the electrode pads are formed.

Nakata et al ('834) disclose a probe sheet with probe terminals is electrically connected to their corresponding IC terminals, an insulating substrate or a wiring board is provided on the probe sheet and an elastic member or reinforcing member is interposed between the probe sheet and the insulating substrate (see abstract).
